SPEAKERS SPOTLIGHT - Timothy Burndred & Freddie Ng

Timothy Burndred, Regional Manager, JEB International Limited

Tim has worked in construction and commercial workplace for nearly 15 years. With experience ranging from project management, corporate churn management, product design and international business, Tim is now the Regional Manager of JEB International. JEB designs and manufactures innovative architectural systems to provide corporate clients with acoustic partitions, flexible wall systems and various customised architectural products for commercial workplace. Tim's role is to oversee the design and production of customised projects and manage distribution markets around Asia.

Freddie Ng, Project Director, Gensler

Freddie has joined the Gensler Hong Kong office in 2013. Having been in the Interior Design Industry for 25 years, Freddie has diversified experience from corporate offices to retail, commercial and residential development projects. He treated every project as a new challenge and kept the quality to the highest standard.

From 1996 to 2002, Freddie lived in Los Angeles and worked an international architectural firm as a Project Manager. During those years, Freddie has further developed his skills from working with international clients such as DFS, Merrill Lynch, Jones Lang LaSalle and LAWA, Los Angeles World Airports. In 2002, Freddie returned to Hong Kong and started his new venture with residential development projects in various cities in China. The 3 years of intense travelling and meetings with the developers, consultants and contractors in the PRC substantially strengthened his ability to adapt to the working cultures in these cities
