CHAPTER WORKSHOP

FACILITY MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATIONS

Certified Facility Manager (CFM)

3rd May (Thursday) 2007 6:30pm to 9:30pm

Hong Kong Land, 8/F Exchange Square One, Central, Hong Kong

"You have a great job. Your employer is rock solid. Your last performance rating was excellent and the future looks bright. One day, you go to work and your job no longer exists. It happens easier and faster than you can imagine.

When you enter a tight job market, what will distinguish you from the crowd? Employers look for leaders and demonstrated skill in an area of practice. Your CFM shows you have the interest and skill in facility management to be the best. It shows you have the tenacity to keep those skills sharp year after year. What better example of leadership than to choose to be the best and advertise it."

Christine H. Neldon, CFM, CFMJ, IFMA Fellow,

Regional Project Manager for The St Paul. Companies

The Certified Facility Manager (CFM) credential sets the industry standard for ensuring the knowledge and abilities of practicing facility managers.

More than ever, recognizing competency and high performance – establishing benchmarks, defining competence and setting performance standards – is vital to the global economy. Never before have the public, employers and government agencies relied as much on certification organizations as they do today. Professional associations are now taking a lead role in developing these credentialing programs, and IFMA's CFM program was the first in facility management.

The workshop will cover the following topics: -

- What difference does becoming a Certified Facility Manager make
- Examination or equivalency
- Who is eligible to apply
- The nine core competencies
- Application procedure
