FM and Workplace Strategies Best Practices

Thursday, 5 May 2016 | 9:00 - 18:00 | HKCEC

Ms. Lisa Cameron
Director – Occupier Consulting /Workplace Strategy, CBRE

Lisa Cameron brings over 20 years of experience as a trained architect, business management consultant and workplace strategy professional. With extensive track record in multiple industries, Lisa has successfully delivered innovative real estate solutions that have spanned across the full property lifecycle.

Proven experience and ability to deliver real estate solutions within a customer service context, distinguishes Lisa within the market, specifically having worked with a number of clients on developing real estate strategies that link digital experience with the physical environment.

Having played a role on both consultant, project and client side, Lisa is well positioned to assess solutions and define strategies that are relevant and sustainable for the end user, and draws on both qualitative and quantitative approaches to translate business strategy into physical space.

Her business consulting experience brings together people, place, technology and process to ensure tangible sustainable strategic results. Effective at communicating with all levels of the business, Lisa's recent focus has been the development of business transformation, cultural repositioning programs to support newly developed real estate solutions, working with clients from initial ideation through to client/customer experience propositions and service model development.

Lisa has significant experience with capital project development and delivery, and is the recipient and finalist of multiple design awards in the Construction and Development Industry. Her projects are often first mover, market defining and demonstrate her ability to lead a team to deliver on innovation. ...read more
